TUMORS OF THE ESOPHAGUS AND STOMACH
Robert D. Odze et al
Mar 2019 416pp, 595 images
9781933477404 Hardback US$210.00
AFIP Atlas of Tumor Pathology Series 4, No. 28

Since the publication of the previous edition of Tumors of the Esophagus and Stomach, great advances in many areas of tumor biology have led to a better understanding of the pathogenesis, pathology, and molecular biology of epithelial and stromal malignancies of the upper gastrointestinal tract. Many of these advances have led to specific improvements in diagnosis, prognosis, treatment, and thus, survival in patients affected by these tumors.

This edition highlights these advances to help pathologists diagnose diseases more accurately and understand how pathology contributes to clinical treatment in the new age of personalized and targeted therapy.

This book has been written with the pathologist in mind first by using tables that illustrate salient pathologic, molecular, and differential diagnostic features of key entities that are often difficult to distinguish from each other. Specific colour photographs of classic tumors and morphologic variants often difficult to recognise are used throughout.
TEN THINGS EVERY CHILD WITH AUTISM WISHES YOU KNEW

Third Edition

Ellen Notbohm
Edited by Veronica Zysk

Jun 2019 277pp
9781941765883 Paperback US$16.95

An award-winning bestseller gets even better! Every parent, teacher, social worker, therapist, and physician should have this succinct and informative book in their back pocket. Framed with both humour and compassion, the book describes ten characteristics that help illuminate - not define - children with autism.

Ellen’s personal experiences as a parent of children with autism and ADHD, a celebrated autism author, and a contributor to numerous publications, classrooms, conferences, and websites around the world coalesce to create a guide for all who come in contact with a child on the autism spectrum.

This updated edition delves into expanded thought and deeper discussion of communication issues, social processing skills, and the critical roles adult perspectives play in guiding the child with autism to a meaningful, self-sufficient, productive life.

THE ARTISTRY OF NEIL GAIMAN
Finding Light in the Shadows
Edited by Joseph Michael Sommers & Kyle Eveleth
Apr 2019 300pp, 44 b&w illustrations
9781496821652 Paperback US$30.00

Critical Approaches to Comics Artists Series

Neil Gaiman reigns as one of the most critically decorated and popular authors of the last fifty years. Perhaps best known as the writer of the Harvey, Eisner, and World Fantasy-award winning series The Sandman, Gaiman quickly became equally renowned in literary circles for Neverwhere, Coraline, and award-winning American Gods, as well as the Newbery and Carnegie Medal-winning The Graveyard Book.

Despite Gaiman’s incredible contributions to comics, his work remains underrepresented in sustained fashion in comics studies. The thirteen essays and two interviews with Gaiman and his frequent collaborator, artist P. Craig Russell, examine the work of Gaiman and his many illustrators. The essays discuss Gaiman’s oeuvre regarding the qualities that make his work unique in his eschewing of typical categories, his proclamations to “make good art,” and his own constant efforts to do so however the genres and audiences may slip into one another.

WONDEROUS WORLDS
Art and Islam Through Time and Place
Katherine Anne Paul
Apr 2019 60pp
9780692183106 Hardback US$39.95

The intercontinental reach of Dar al-Islam, or the Islamic world, today touches all continents. This catalogue (like the exhibition it enhances) embraces this global reality to take the most expansive and inclusive vision of how many art practices have historically intersected with Islam and how they continue to do so.

Through key works of art, this publication examines trade relationships between regions as well as intercultural exchanges within smaller geographic areas. It discusses a range of interactions between practitioners of many religions who supplied art within political entities, both of Islamic cultural majority and Islamic cultural minority over centuries.

Works in this publication hail from what is present-day Afghanistan, Algeria, Burkina Faso, China, Egypt, France, Indonesia, India, Iran, Iraq, Malaysia, Morocco, Myanmar, the Netherlands, Nigeria, Pakistan, Togo, Turkey, Turkmenistan, Saudi Arabia, Spain, Sudan, Syria, the United States of America, Uzbekistan and Zanzibar. Works illustrated and discussed were created as recently as 2016 but also as early as the ninth century.

Newark Museum
As Miles Larmer writes in the foreword, Adventures in Zambian Politics is unlike any political memoir you have ever read. It is a political history of Zambia from colonial times to the present. A revealing insider account of politics and government within a modern African state. A story about race in Africa. A chronicle of the rise and fall of two improbable political allies who wanted to change Zambian politics: Michael Sata, whose convoluted political career led him to become president in 2011, and Guy Scott, Sata’s vice president and, after Sata’s death, acting president of Zambia. Not least, it is a pleasure to read.

Guy Scott’s absorbing narrative of his career and Michael Sata’s in the chaotic world of African politics tells a uniquely Zambian story. But it is also a special contribution to our understanding of democracy and democratization across Africa.

In hindsight, it is increasingly possible to understand whether and how Obama’s legacy matched his rhetoric as well as to evaluate from various angles what his presidency accomplished and what this has meant for US politics, public policy, and civic life going forward. In The Obama Legacy some of the leading observers and scholars of US politics take up this challenge. In twelve essays these writers examine Obama’s choices, operating style, and opportunities taken and missed as well as the institutional and political constraints on the president’s policy agenda.

“Hope” and “change” were the keywords of President Barack Obama’s 2008 campaign, and in his farewell address he cited the evidence that he’d delivered - from reversing the Great Recession, and unleashing the longest stretch of job creation in US history to winning marriage equality and securing the right to health insurance for another 20 million citizens. At the same time, he made a plea for “the decency of our people” and “the sense of common purpose that we so badly need right now.”

THE OTTOMAN TWILIGHT IN THE ARAB LANDS
Turkish Testimonies and Memories of the Great War
Edited by Selim Deringil

The Great War is still seen as a mostly European war. The Middle Eastern theatre is, at best, considered a sideshow written from the western perspective. This book fills a gap in the literature by giving an insight through annotated translations from Ottoman memoirs of actors who witnessed the last few years of Turkish presence in the Arab lands.

Studies in Print Culture and the History of the Book
During the Cold War, determined translators and publishers based in the Soviet Union worked together to increase the number of foreign literary texts available in Russian, despite government restrictions. Based on extensive interviews with literary translators, Made Under Pressure offers an insider’s look at Soviet censorship and the role translators played in promoting foreign authors.

Author in Chief
The Presidents as Writers From Washington to Trump
Michael B. Costanzo
Feb 2019 204pp
9781476667571 Paperback US$39.95
Serves as a history of works - including autobiographies, diaries, memoirs, political manifestos, speeches and others - authored by US presidents and published prior to, during or after their terms. The book tells how writing was easy for some and harder for others. It is the story of literary comebacks, bestsellers, false starts and failures.

Medieval Crime Fiction
A Critical Overview
Anne McKendry
Mar 2019 230pp
9781476666716 Paperback US$45.00
Combining elements of medievalism, the historical novel and the detective narrative, medieval crime fiction capitalizes upon the appeal of all three. This book investigates the enduring popularity of the largely unexamined genre and explores its social, cultural and political contexts.

THE PRICE OF LITERATURE
The French Novel's Theoretical Turn
Patrick M. Bray
Mar 2019 192pp
9780810139329 Paperback US$34.95
Examines the presence of theory in the nineteenth-century French novel. Emerging after the French Revolution, what we call literature was conceived as an art liberated from representational constraints. Patrick Bray shows how literature's freedom to represent anything has meant, paradoxically, that it cannot articulate a coherent theory of itself.
THE TWO-SOUL’D ANIMAL
Early Modern Literatures of the Classical and Christian Souls
James Jaehoon Lee
Mar 2019 216pp, 2 b&w illustrations
9780810139299 Paperback US$34.95
Illuminates an early modern debate that recognised the troubling extent to which Christian thought had defined the human in terms of two incompatible models of soul. The English writers studied in this book place two prevailing interpretations of the soul’s faculties into contact as a way to construct a new mode of Christian agency.

THE VIRGINAL MOTHER IN GERMAN CULTURE
From Sophie von La Roche and Goethe to Metropolis
Lauren Nossett
Mar 2019 276pp
9780810139299 Paperback US$34.95
Presents an analysis of the contradictory obsession with female virginity and idealization of maternal nature in Germany from the late eighteenth to the early twentieth centuries. Lauren Nossett explores how the ideal of woman as both a sexless and maternal being led to the creation of a unique figure in German literature: the virginal mother.

A BOCCACCIAN RENAISSANCE
Essays on the Early Modern Impact of Giovanni Boccaccio and His Works
Edited by Martin Eisner & David Lummus
Jun 2019 340pp
9780268105891 Hardback US$65.00
Sheds light on medieval constructions of the self as they emerge from within a deeply sacramental culture. The book examines the medieval morality play, a genre that addresses the question of what it means to be human and takes up the ritual traditions of confession and penance, long associated with medieval interiority, as its primary subjects.

CHAUCER AND RELIGIOUS CONTROVERSIES IN THE MEDIEVAL AND EARLY MODERN ERAS
Nancy Bradley Warren
Apr 2019 220pp
9780268105822 Paperback US$45.00
Adopts a comparative, boundary-crossing approach to consider one of the most canonical of literary figures, Geoffrey Chaucer. This book breaks new ground by considering Chaucer’s continental interests as they inform his participation in religious debates concerning such subjects as female spirituality and Lollardy.

THE PORTRAIT OF BEATRICE
Dante, D. G. Rossetti, and the Imaginary Lady
Fabio Camilletti
Mar 2019 220pp
9780268103972 Hardback US$50.00
Examines both Dante’s and D.G. Rossetti’s intellectual experiences in the light of a common concern about visuality. Both render, in different times and contexts, something that resists clear representation, be it the divine beauty of the angel-women or the depiction of the painter’s own interiority in a secularized age.

THEATER OF THE WORD

Fictions of Marriage in the English Enlightenment
Melissa J. Ganz
May 2019 328pp, 6 b&w illustrations
9780813942421 Hardback US$45.00
In eighteenth-century England, the institution of marriage became the subject of heated debates, as clerics, jurists, legislators, philosophers, and social observers began rethinking its contractual foundation. Public Vows argues that these debates shaped English fiction in crucial and previously unrecognised ways.

A Place Inside Yourself
Edited by Tahneer Oksman & Seamus O’Malley
Jan 2019 240pp
9781496821096 Paperback US$30.00

Critical Approaches to Comics Artists Series

In a self-reflexive way, Julie Doucet’s and Gabrielle Bell’s comics, though often autobiographical, defy easy categorization. This volume regards their art as actively feminist, not only because they offer women’s perspectives, but because they do so by provocatively bringing up the complicated, multivalent frameworks of such engagements.

Asia Pop!

Bollywood” and “Hallyu” are increasingly competing with “Hollywood” - either replacing it or filling a void in places where it never held sway. This critical multidisciplinary anthology places the mediascapes of India, South Korea, and the US in comparative dialogue to explore the transnational flows of technology, capital, and labour.

FILM APPRECIATION THROUGH GENRES
Michael Patrick Gillespie
Mar 2019 160pp
9781476676395 Paperback US$35.00

Many intelligent, enthusiastic individuals approach conversations about films as an extension of the pleasures derived while watching them. Love for movies and enthusiasm for discussion makes many people want to attain a better understanding of what they have seen and to develop a greater skill in talking articulately about their experiences.
GEORGE STEVENS
The Films of a Hollywood Giant
Neil Sinyard
May 2019 238pp
9780786477753 Paperback US$45.00
Winner of two Best Director Oscars, George Stevens excelled in a range of genres, gave lustre to some of Hollywood’s brightest stars and was revered by his peers. Yet his work has been largely neglected by critics and scholars. This career retrospective highlights Stevens’ achievements, particularly in his sweeping “American Dream” trilogy.

HITCHCOCK AND HUMOR
Comedic Elements in Twelve Defining Films
Wes D. Gehring
Apr 2019 241pp
9781476673561 Paperback US$39.95
The author grew tired of misleading throwaway references to the Alfred Hitchcock’s “comic relief.” This book examines what should be obvious: Hitchcock systematically incorporated assorted types of comedy - black humour, parody, farce/screwball comedy and romantic comedy - in his films to entertain his audience with “comic” thrillers.

The Body as a Cinematic Thing

Lesley Stern

Feb 2019 60pp
9780819811914 Paperback US$12.95
Kino-Agora

Lesley Stern is more interested in things than in death. It is thus the liveliness of corpses that lures her. Not dead bodies which act as though they were alive, nor live bodies which may really be dead, nor bodies which may in fact be composited, or even digitally constructed bodies. Rather, ordinary, old-fashioned bodies.
THE MOVIES AS A WORLD FORCE
American Silent Cinema and the Utopian Imagination

Ryan Jay Friedman
Feb 2019 232pp, 25 b&w illustrations
9780813593593 Paperback US$29.95

Throughout the silent-feature era, American artists and intellectuals routinely described cinema as a force of global communion, a universal language promoting mutual understanding and harmonious coexistence amongst disparate groups of people. This book examines the body of writing in which this understanding of cinema emerged and explores how it shaped particular silent films.

TRANSGENDER CINEMA
Rebecca Bell-Metereau
Mar 2019 130pp
9780813597331 Paperback US$17.95

Quick Takes: Movies and Popular Culture

Gives readers the big picture of how trans people have been depicted on screen. The book examines a plethora of trans portrayals that emerged from varied media outlets, including documentary films, television serials, and world cinema. Along the way, it analyses milestones in trans representation.

UNDEAD ENDS
Stories of Apocalypse

S. Trimble
May 2019 224pp, 15 b&w illustrations
9780813593647 Paperback US$29.95

Examines how we imagine humanness and survival in the aftermath of disaster. The book frames modern British and American apocalypse films as sites of interpretive struggle, and asks what is ending? Whose dreams of starting over take centre stage? And how do these films make room to dream of new beginnings that don’t just reboot the world we know?

THE NEW CINEPHILIA
Girish Shambu
Feb 2019 65pp
9780991830183 Paperback US$12.95

Kino-Agora

Cinephilic practice today - viewing, thinking, reading and writing about films - is marked by an unprecedented amount of social interaction, made possible by dramatically lower economic barriers to publication through the internet, giving rise to new hybrid forms of cinephilic writing that draw from scholarly, journalistic and literary models.

SOME KIND OF MIRROR
Creating Marilyn Monroe

Amanda Konkle
Feb 2019 280pp, 31 b&w illustrations
9781978802612 Paperback US$29.95

Offers the first extended scholarly analysis of Marilyn Monroe’s film performances, examining how they united the contradictory discourses about women’s roles in 1950s America. Amanda Konkle suggests that Monroe’s star persona resonated with audiences precisely because it engaged with the era’s critical debates regarding femininity, sexuality, marriage, and political activism.

Rancière, Between Aesthetics and Politics
Scott Durham & Dilip Gaonkar
Jun 2019 264pp, 7 b&w images
9780810140271 Paperback US$39.95

Jacques Rancière’s work is increasingly central to several debates across the humanities. Distributions of the Sensible confronts a question at the heart of his thought: How should we conceive the relationship between the “politics of aesthetics” and the “aesthetics of politics”?

HEGEL’S THEORY OF NORMATIVITY
The Systematic Foundations of the Philosophical Science of Right
Kevin Thompson
May 2019 144pp
9780810139923 Paperback US$34.95

Hegel’s Elements of the Philosophy of Right offers an innovative account of normativity, yet the theory rests on philosophical foundations that have remained largely obscure. Kevin Thompson proposes an interpretation of the foundations that underlie Hegel’s theory: its method of justification, its concept of freedom, and its account of right.

Eddis N. Miller
Jun 2019 152pp
9780810140929 Paperback US$39.95

Presents an important new reading of Jacques Derrida’s writings on religion and ethics. Eddis Miller argues that Derrida’s late texts on religion constitute an interrogation of the meaning and possibility of a “philosophy of religion”.

KANT’S NONIDEAL THEORY OF POLITICS
Dilek Huseyinzadegan
Apr 2019 224pp
9780810139879 Paperback US$34.95

Argues that Kant’s political thought must be understood by reference to his philosophy of history, cultural anthropology, and geography. The thesis is that Kant’s assessment of the politically salient features of history, culture, and geography generates a non-ideal theory of politics, which supplements his ideal theory of cosmopolitanism.

THINKING AND THE I

Hegel and the Critique of Kant

Alfredo Ferrarin

Mar 2019 292pp
9780810139381 Paperback US$34.95

What is the relation between thinking and the I that thinks? And between thought and reality? The ordinary view is that there is only thought when someone thinks something, and thoughts and concepts are mental acts that refer to objects outside us. Ferrarin shows that Hegel’s philosophy entails a radical criticism of this conception of thinking.

CHANGING SAUDI ARABIA
Art, Culture, and Society in the Kingdom
Sean Foley
Feb 2019 220pp
9781626377561 Hardback US$65.00
Exploring the contemporary arts movement in Saudi Arabia in the context of the kingdom’s changing political realities, Sean Foley finds that artists are expressing thoughts and feelings that the Saudi public typically has not felt safe to articulate. These artists are promoting discussions about the need for peaceful and progressive social reform.

ON ARTISTS
Ashleigh Wilson
May 2019 277pp
9780522875256 Paperback US$10.97
On Series
The #MeToo movement is overturning a cliché that has forgiven bad behaviour for years: to be creative is to be prone to eccentricity, madness, addiction and excess. No longer can artists be excused from the standards of conduct that apply to us all. But if we denounce the artist, then what becomes of the work that remains?

ON IDENTITY
Stan Grant
May 2019 277pp
9780522875222 Paperback US$10.97
On Series
Tribalism, nationalism and sectarianism are dividing the world into us and them. Communities are a tinderbox of anger and resentment. Stan Grant argues that it is time to leave identity behind and to embrace cosmopolitanism. On Identity is a meditation on hope and community.

The Invention of the Favela

Licía do Prado Valladares

For the first time available in English, Licía do Prado Valladares’s classic anthropological study of Brazil’s vast, densely populated urban living environments reveals how the idea of the favela became an internationally established - and even attractive and exotic - representation of poverty.

Accidental Feminists

Jane Caro

Western women over fifty are a revolutionary generation. They are the first in history to have been in paid work for most of their lives. The power and freedom of this financial independence is unprecedented. But this financial transformation is not equally enjoyed. Jane Caro investigates what predisposes some women to succeed and others to fall.
